

Job Challenge Profile

Learning from work experience: designed to gauge workplace challenges and turn those challenges into prime learning experiences.

What is the Job Challenge Profile?

Most people learn a great deal from actual work experiences; handling the tasks, responsibilities and pressures that come from each job assignment. However, there may be times when managers and leaders feel overburdened by challenging job tasks, struggle through projects and avoid additional responsibilities which might prove enriching. It can often mean they are unsatisfied and their job performance may suffer as a result.

The Job Challenge Profile (JCP) is a self-assessment that will gauge workplace challenges and highlights prime learning experiences. This profile can show you or your employees how to seek, challenge and develop the valuable skills needed within ones professional life.
